DETAILED ACTION

This action is to correct the previous requirement for restriction which inadvertently omitted claim 61 from the group I invention. Applicant's attorney, Mr. Richmond, brought this error to the examiner's attention shortly after the initial action was received, and the period for response is restarted to run 1 month from the date of this letter.

The correct grouping of claims is as follows:

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 44-61, drawn to a semiconductor device, classified in class 257, subclass 618.
- II. Claims 1-43 and 62, drawn to a method, classified in class 438, subclass 287.
- III. Claims 63-76, drawn to a probe, classified in class 600, subclass 300.
- IV. Claims 77 and 78, drawn to a processing system, classified in class 712, subclass 202.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the device of group I can be formed without the central channel.

Inventions II and III are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the process of group II can be practiced without using a probe.

Inventions II and IV are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the process of group II can be practiced without the use of an inlet arrangement with a valve assembly.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for each of the groups is different, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
